(August 2, 2005- TROY)- As of 3:30 p.m., Fourth Street between State Street and Broadway in downtown Troy has reopened to traffic. Through the week, the street will have only one lane of traffic.

One block of Fourth Street has been closed since Sunday evening when a Troy Police Officer spotted a small amount of debris that had fallen from the Proctor's Theater.

Mayor Harry Tutunjian asked for the continued patience of residents and business owners as structural engineers continue to work on the building.

"We realize that only having one lane of traffic will cause issues with parking and businesses," Tutunjian said. "However, we need to be sure that the building is in good shape, and this is the only way to do so while keeping the road open to traffic."
